

KAREN TOWT

Staff Solicitor

Most of all, Karen Towt values her career, the man she followed half-way across the world to marry, and travelling. She brings to Dennis King Law eight years international experience in both the practice of law and university teaching.

Admitted to practice in her native Australia, England & Wales and New Zealand, she studied and began her career in Melbourne before travelling overseas. She has held a number of positions in the United Kingdom including a senior lectureship at a University in the North of England, and most recently was employed by one of the top 500 legal firms in the United Kingdom. She is an enthusiastic litigation lawyer who enjoys the variety of her work and the opportunity to 'get my Dukes up' on her clients' behalf.

An intrepid adventurer too, she has skidooed glaciers in Iceland, paraglided in Turkey and hitch-hiked through Jamaica — but for now work and home are in New Plymouth and travelling is on hold.