

Claudia King

Staff Solicitor

Returning home to Taranaki was definitely a good move for Claudia King. For someone who enjoys brunching-and-lunching-wining-and-dining with friends, horse-riding, yoga, photography and progressing her career in law it's the place to be. Along with a solid grounding in tax law she brings to dennis king Law, a dash of colour and youthful flair.

After graduating from Waikato University with degrees in law and social science, Claudia worked for two years in Auckland as a corporate tax consultant with international chartered accountants KPMG. She now specialises in tax and commercial law.

She enjoys the ambience of the smaller office in New Plymouth and the greater awareness of what's going on within the whole firm. As a child, Claudia never really wanted to pursue any career other than law. And yes – she is Dennis and Yvonne's daughter.
