Janice Fieldes shares a previous 11-year work association with both Dennis and Yvonne King and, like Dennis, she has a passion for mathematics.

Born in Palmerston North, Janice went to school and then established her career in New Plymouth, and more recently has travelled widely overseas. She is an enthusiastic – and accomplished – cook and gardener, with a keen eye for both landscape and interior design.

It's 'doing the books' however, that occupies her working day, and which brings her the greatest professional satisfaction. No other challenge, she says, is as enjoyable as facing a mountain of figures and 'working it all out'. A self-confessed organiser at home, she brings the same attitude to her work as well.
